Continuation of 2. NOTE: The proposed amendment, in adding limitations drawn to the chip being separate from the guiding portions, does not in any way reduce or simplify the issues for appeal. Further, note that this proposed limitation does nothing to patentably distinguish from Kasuga; in Kasuga, the chips 4 and 5 are not the same as the guiding portions 21-24, and thus can be interpreted as separate. Merely saying that they are separate does not distinguish.
